

Qld: Bulldozers could start work soon to reclaim Kirra

Bulldozers could soon be seen on the Gold Coast's Kirra beach .. as work starts to reclaim the world famous point break from the sand that's swallowed it.

Following a meeting with the government .. Kirra Point Committee spokesman WAYNE "RABBIT" BARTHOLOMEW says he hopes work will start this season on stripping some of the sand off the beach and moving it back into the dunal system.

The aim is to restore the perfect situation for surfing waves.
